Here's what we're doing to keep you safe:

There will be limited indoor seating so we encourage customers to take advantage of our sweet patio space (and soak up that Queen City Vitamin D).

Employees will be wearing a mask for your safety. We ask that you wear one for ours (bonus points if your mask has flair).

Interior restrooms will be open (and cleaned frequently).

Increased cleaning, partitions at registers, & hand sanitizer stations (so fresh and so clean).

Curbside pickup will continue for most businesses. Check our web site for participating businesses.

Pre-orders are welcome and encouraged. Check out our web site to find which businesses are participating.

WE ARE THE 7TH STREET PUBLIC MARKET, BUT OUR FRIENDS CALL US THE MARKET.

We are North Carolina's original food hall, but the thing that really makes us special is we are a place where local food, drinks, and gifts collide. As a nonprofit small business incubator, we help local entrepreneurs get their brilliant business ideas started in the Queen City, because you know what makes a city awesome? People (and all the crazy ideas that come with them). Oh, yeah — we also make damn good food. So drop in for a meal, a drink, or a conversation and rediscover how The Market brings us together in the heart of the city we love.
